SPRINGFIELD, May 21.-The Republican Convention this morning appointed a solid Grant delegation to the Chicago Convention. The following delegates at large were appointed: John A. Logan, E. A. Storrs, E. B. Raum and D. T. Littler.

From the Washington Star. The confidence with which speaker Randall expresses the opinion that Tilden will be nominated on the first ballot at Cincinnati will go a great ways toward convincing people that there is more in the Tilden boom than is generally reported.

Mr. Raudall has the -reputation being a long-headed politician, and he would not be likely to make such a positive declaration about Tilden un-less he had a basis for it.

The fact, too, that Tilden usually achieves what he sets out for in politics tends to confirm Mr. Randall's prediction. It was said that the "Sage of Gramercy Park" would be beaten in New York, but he quietly pocketed the delegation without any trouble. It was then claimed that he would be crushed in Pennsylvania, but the Convention did not hurt him

Anderson Wins the First Prize With a Score of 1,304 Miles.

From the S. P. Buffetin. The six days mustage ride at the Bay District track was finished at 7 o'clock last evening, in the presence VIRCINIA STREET, of a large audience. The last mile was ridden by Reyes in 2:12, and by Anderson in 2:20. Reyes is credited with the greatest number of miles in any one day, and Anderson is credited with the best time of any mile in the race—2:10—and the winner by 20 miles. The score at the close stood: Anderson 1,304; Reyes 1,284; Derrick 680; Peralto 566. Anderson takes the first prize of $1,500; Reyes the second, $750, and Derrick the third, $250.

Miss Lizzie Baymer is riding on her bicycle over the highest wave of pop-ular favor in Eureka. A sporting gentleman of that city has backed her in the sum of $250 for a two hours race with the fast mare Mollie Ralsrace with the fast mare months rain ton. Eureka's loose coin will change hands on the result. The race take place to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon

Matt Parrott, the gunsmith, keeps well supplied with everything in his-line of business. His latest thing in rifles is the Burgess, a weap which fires nine shots about as fast as the powder will burn. With this magazine gun a man can put nine big bullets into the carcass of a grizply bear at close quarters, thefore the beast could have time to see where they were coming from. The movement of the lever throws out the empty shell with sufficient force to kill anything coming from behind, cocks the gun and brings a new cartridge into place
—all in the twinkling of an eye.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

odle Jake's Ducking in the River an

A singular propensity for falling into the river seems to have lately developed itself in Reno. The last instance of involuntary immersion in the raging flood occurred yesterday afternoon. A young female of some thirteen summers, a resident on Lin- a side coln avenue and known to her associates as "Bodie Jake" is the last unfortunate. This more or less symmetrical young person took it into her whimsical head to hook out drift wood from the river, seeing others engaged in that, laudable and virtuous but not especially exciting occupation. She accordingly determined to see what she could rescue from the muddy tor. she could rescue from the muddy torrent. The scene of her exploit was below the railroad bridge. Armed with a long stick, she boidly stepped out upon a floating log that was moorod to the river's brink, and began to fish for the pieces of wood that went floating by on the flood. A sudden roll of the log, and she lost her balsnce, and plunged head foremost into the river. There was an agonizing shriek, a brief but brilliant and attractive display of the latest style in tractive display of the latest style in hosiery, and Bodie Jake had disappeared beneath the wave. Very for-tunately for her, Fred Teasland happened along in that direction just at the time of the accident. He caught a glimpse of the flame colored limbs projecting from the water, and at first supposed that another Venus was rissituation, however, and, without a moment's delay, plunged in to the

"A young man of comely appear ance and with a weary, anxious look" -according to the Tribune- wrote the following farewell me-sage on a Carson fence picket:

On this 18th day of May, 1830, I, Wm. Hearn, write these lines in order that any person who may read them will notify my parents, who reside on the corner of 25th and Valentia st., S. the corner of 25th and Valentia st., S.

-The charm of a perfect summer feet foremost, from the evening, with a bright moon shining evening to the contract of the night. There was no wind, and the air was soft and warm. Neyada looks her best on such a night, and there are other things beside the country rescue. Both were swept some distance down stream with the current, but only a few moments elapsed before which the moonlight makes attractive, judging by the number of callow youths and maidens persmbulsting in only a few moments elapsing.

Teasland emerged upon the bank with the plump and dripping form of Bodie the plump arms. The (morally) pairs last evening.

Jake in his arms, The (morally) frail damsel gasped like an expiring fish, and Teasland, fearing serious consequences from her long immersion, said to her anxiously, as he held her np by the legs to drain, "Got any np by the legs to drain," The Enterprise, in a long local article yerterday, tried to create the impression that Mt. Davidson is likely np by the legs to drain, "Got any np by the legs to drain, "Got any water in you?" She promptly re-water in you?" She promptly re-sented this affront to her modesty, as sented this affront to her modesty, as to suddenly withdraw into its hole and pull the hole and Virginia City in after it. The article concludes as land that his attentions were not longfollows: "As our people have now cut er required. The unfortunate crea-ture remained on the shore only long a trench some two miles in length and from 2,000 to 3,000 feet in de down into the upper edge of this soft material along the eastern base of Mount Davidson, we need not be surprised some fine day to see the who mountain topple over and lie with its International Hotel, and all the town for that matter, is moving eastward at the rate of about six inches per year. If this be so it would be well to look after Mount Davidson. Some one should go up and see whether the iron after flagstaff on the summit still maintai its vertical position, or whether it is not leaning over to the eastward."

five cents. This announcement merits special attention. It is no little thing to cut down, the rates of hair for his farewell communication is somewhat difficult to understand. His body has not yet been heard from. If he has drowned himself in any deep portion of Lake Tahoe it will never be recovered. again. A man can now get a good hot or cold bath or a shampoo at Pechsides, and yet expend only half a dol-lar. Pechner's saloon is a first-class tonsorial establishment, and ita pres-ent bootblack is one of the most polished of colored gentlemen.

Drunk and Disorderly. Bodie Jake, probably to guard against illness from the affects of her ducking yesterday, indulged in alcoholic stimulants last night to such an extent that she became hilariously drunk. Almost all the inmates of Lincoln Avenue joined in the carousal, and toward morning the place was a perfect pandemonium. The girls were running about, half naked, singing were running about, half naked, singing and shouting and raising the devil generally. Bodie Jake smashed in two windows of No. 25, and a warrant
